

RETAIL DELIVERY DRIVER ADVERT

- Casual Position
- Delivering Chemicals & Retail Merchandise across South & West Gippsland
- Depot based in Korumburra

Hico (Herd Improvement Co-Operative Australia Ltd) is looking to recruit an experienced delivery driver on a casual basis.

You will be delivering chemicals and herd related merchandise to our farmer customers across South & West Gippsland, engaging with our customers when delivering products and making sure our customers are not running low on their day to day supplies provided by Hico.

So what does a Retail Delivery Driver do?

- Deliver chemicals and retail merchandise to customers based in South and West Gippsland;
- Be able to talk about the various products available to customers;
- Engage with customers to determine where other products may be of assistance;
- On farm checking of chemical levels to ensure adequate supplies;
- Complete deliver orders/paperwork in an efficient and professional way;
- Data entry of orders completed.

What do you need to be a Retail Delivery Driver?

- Strong organisation/prioritisation capabilities;
- Proactive and flexible;
- Professional approach to the role;
- Ability to effectively communicate with customers;
- Strong route planning to ensure efficient delivery of products across region;
- Ability to manoeuvre heavy chemical drums/products;
- Ability to undertake paperwork/data entry;
- Forklift license;
- Heavy Rigid Truck license;
- Team player; and
- Willing to learn.

If you are interested to apply for this position or to find out more, please contact Leesa Wade, South/West Branch Manager on 0419 548 411, applications can be emailed to lwade@hico.com.au.

Applications close Friday, 15th October 2021